Merry Scene at Bal Masque at Fort Douglas Friday Night

THE bal masque at the post Friday night was really the most elaborate event of the whole week in military and town society circles. It was in every respect the best managed affair ever arranged here, as a masquerade, and the beauty of the cotillion figures, the perfection of detail and the general success of the affair was due entirely to Captain and Mrs. James M. Petty, the only members of the hop committee at present at the post, who planned and executed the whole affair. The most congenial spirit possible reigned throughout the evening, and the people of the army proved themselves as always the most perfect of hosts and hostesses.

The guests were received as they entered by Mrs. Hess and Mrs. Glover, who were not masked, but were assisting Captain and Mrs. Petty in entertaining the company. The weird figures, dressed in all sorts of fanciful costumes, tossed before the receiving line, and when a large number were assembled, the center of the hall was cleared for the entrance of the judges, Mrs. Irons, Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Graves and Mrs. Selfridge, who passed down the length of the hop room and mounted to a dais at the far end, from which they could view the company. They were attired in wigs, caps and gowns and made a striking appearance. After more than two hours of earnest deliberation they announced that six ladies and six gentlemen had been selected who were equally good in their representation of the various characters. They were Mrs. C. C. Smith, a little girl; Miss Josephine Campbell, a Dutch girl; Miss Genevieve Savage, an Indian maid; Miss Denise Karriek, a Colonial maiden; Mrs. P. G. Wrightson, a Filipino woman, and Mrs. A. W. Foreman, an Indian; Captain Petty, a fantastic soldier; Samuel Karriek, a Turk; Lee Charles Miller, a Dutch peasant; Captain Pond, as Uncle Sam; Fred Perkins, an Indian chief, and George H. Smith, a bull fighter.

These names were placed in a hat and Colonel Irons drew out that of Miss Campbell, who received the ladies' prize, a beautiful little silver card and vanity case, and Mr. Karriek, who received a similar gift, suitable for a man's use. Among the other interesting characters seen were:

Mrs. A. O. Seaman, high-class Japanese lady.
Mrs. Petty, white and black Yamma girl.
Mrs. W. B. Wallace, Dolly Varden.
Mrs. A. W. Gullion, Japanese maiden.
Mrs. Dewitt, Spanish lady.
Mrs. Pond, school girl.
Mrs. W. B. Graham, athletic girl.
Miss Cartwright, athletic girl.
Mrs. Johnson, red and yellow clown.
Mrs. Jordan, French maid.
Mrs. Lee Charles Miller, Dutch peasant.
Mrs. R. M. Breeden, Yellow Kid.
Mrs. Fred Erickson, Dutch girl.
Miss Lucile Francke, Colonial lady.
Miss Elizabeth Niles, Spanish lady.
Mrs. H. W. Baum, little girl.
Mrs. W. W. Trimmer, flower maiden.
Miss Frances Cowan, school girl.

Miss Lucile Clark, Yamma girl.
Mrs. Jack Taylor, flower girl.
Miss Eliza Dey, Colonial lady.
Miss Rosamond Ritchie, Japanese maiden.
Mrs. George H. Smith, Spanish lady.
Mrs. J. M. Davis, tambourine girl.
Miss Joseph Nibley, Quaker maid.
Miss Jane Darling, Japanese girl.
Mrs. William H. Child, Yamma girl.
Mrs. Elbridge Thomas, Spanish beauty.
Miss Hazel Appington, old-fashioned girl.
Mrs. Dodge, Kid Domino.
Dr. Valsen, sailor lad.

Lieutenant Early, monkey.
Lieutenant Schultz, dog-faced boy.
Captain England, Colonial gentleman.
Captain Kellond, kitchen maid.
Major Manley, middy boy.
Mr. Ricard, country boy.
Lieutenant Pardee, Colonial gentleman.
Lieutenant Hall, Greek.
Lieutenant Wallace, football hero.
Captain Smith, small boy.
Lieutenant Hartle, clown.
F. L. Dodge, old man clown.
Elbridge Thomas, bull fighter.
Lieutenant Jordan, prisoner.
Jack Taylor, railroad engineer.
Lieutenant Underwood, tramp.
Lieutenant Cotton, sailor boy.
Captain Bowen, clown.
S. A. Maginnies, Yamma boy.
Lieutenant Gullion, West Point cadet.
Lieutenant Dale McDonald, troubadour.
Lieutenant Weaver, Colonial gentleman.
Captain De Witt, Spaniard.
Colonel Perkins, Chinese gentleman.
Roscoe M. Breeden, Chinese gentleman.
W. H. Child, old man.
Lieutenant Seaman, sailor.

After the supper was served the real surprise of the evening was sprung on the company in the form of a cotillion of several sets of figures, for which beautiful and most interesting favors were presented. There were sea shell rattles, brought by Mrs. Irons from Japan; miniature tennis rackets, lovely flowers and numerous playthings suitable for the gifts. Captain and Mrs. Petty led in the intricate figures of the cotillion and Mrs. Selfridge and Madam Wrightson presided at the favor tables. Many guests from town were present as spectators to view the dancers in their weird characters, among them Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Keyes, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Webber, Mrs. Morris L. Ritchie, Mrs. James L. Franken and others.

THE week just ended has been a particularly gay one for the autumn season, reminding society folk more of the glories of the holiday season than of the pre-Thanksgiving period. The first affair of the week of especial interest was the debutante dance Monday night at the Country club, a delightful affair at which Judge and Mrs. Morris L. Ritchie presented Miss Rosamond Ritchie, a most attractive young girl, at her formal debut into society. An additional affair in connection with Miss Ritchie's debut was the tea on Wednesday afternoon. The great annual event of society, the charity ball, meant more in the matter of display and gowning this year than it has done before and at the same time it can truthfully be said that it was the most successful ball in a society way ever given in the same cause. The bal masque of Friday evening at the post was one of the merriest affairs ever enjoyed in the historic little hop room and it was enjoyed by a representative gathering of the town friends of the army people. As a close of the very gay week came the "Promenade Concert" last evening at the Hotel Utah, a distinct innovation in local society affairs, and one which was welcomed by the music lovers and their friends as a pleasant one. During the early evening the guests thronged the mezzanine floor, presenting all the appearance of a formal reception, and later a delighted audience listened to a most artistic programme.

MRS. J. M. CALLOW was the hostess yesterday at a beautifully appointed luncheon at the Louvre for fifty of the young girl friends of her two younger daughters, the Misses Margaret and Frances Callow, with a matinee party at the Colonial later. The long banquet table was laid the length of the room and the beautiful young girls made a most attractive picture. The whole place was adorned with rosy pink, the exquisite color for youth. Pink carnations were the floral part and tiny pink baskets of bonbons were at each place, while all the minor appointments were in the same color. Mrs. Callow was assisted in chaperoning the party by Mrs. T. G. Griffin and the guests were the Misses:

Irene Savage
Jean Hutchens
Gertrude Thomas
Norma Mueller
Helen Case
Ruth Prather
Lillian Kiehl
Mary Sheek
Inez Sherman
Lois Ransard
Marjorie Critchlow
Jeanette Lecky
Helen Sheets
Marjorie Wasson
Katharine Maturine
Eleanor Park
Bulah Hay
Mary Dorn
Vivian Smith
Helena Gamble
Isabelle Bacon

Ruth Farnsworth

Elizabeth Colladay
Dorothy Doolittle
Dorothy Daly
Martha Weston
Olive Wall
Margaret O'Brien
Anne Montgomery
Berendse Browning
Frances Davis
Naomi Hoffman
Ellen Carmondy
Gretchen Haslam
Frances Knox
Jasmine Smith

Myra Cameron

AMONG the guests at the Charity ball was Mrs. Raymond Moore of Boise, who was Miss Estelle Clinton of this city. Mrs. Moore was warmly welcomed by her friends here, having been one of the popular society girls of the city prior to her marriage. Mrs. Moore will remain for a short visit with Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Ellerbeck and Mrs. Clinton.

ACCORDING to all prognostications as to teas, the quantity of Oolong to be consumed in the next week or so will be enormous. There are to be afternoon teas, bridge teas, pink teas and then simply teas, innumerable. Dinners and luncheons also will fill in the time between now and Thanksgiving, leaving hardly room enough for the regulation turkey of that day. Mrs. James Hogle will entertain at a luncheon Wednesday at the Hotel Utah. Mrs. A. J. Gorham and Mrs. J. C. Weeter will entertain next Thursday afternoon at a Kensington at the Gorham home. Miss Norinne Thompson gives a tea this afternoon at her home. Mrs. Ira H. Lewis entertains next Saturday at a musicale at her home. Miss Edith Maguire entertains tomorrow at tea for Mrs. Hobbs.

A VERY pleasant affair of yesterday afternoon was the tea given by Mrs. John Dorius and her daughters, Mrs. Collie Stayner and Mrs. Wilford Moyle, to a number of their friends. The Dorius home in Federal Heights was the scene of the affair and it was gay with flowers through all the rooms, the various shades of yellow being used. Assisting the hostesses in the receiving of their guests were Mrs. Clifford A. Jennings, Miss Helen Jennings, Mrs. Lester Langford and Mrs. J. A. Kearns. Mrs. Annie Dinwoody, Mrs. John E. Austin, Mrs. Jay Milner and Mrs. Frank Doyle alternated at the tea table, and assisting them were Mrs. Seymour Dorius, Mrs. Henry Kleinsmidt, Miss Genevieve McClellan and Miss Sena Dorius. Little Ruth Jennings received the friends at the door.

WHILE the dancing events of the near future are few as compared to those of the past week, there are still a number on the immediate horizon toward which the younger dancing people are looking with keen interest. The second dance of the Utah club will be the big event of the present week, being set for Wednesday evening in the ballroom of the Hotel Utah. Following a week later the men of the University club will entertain their friends at the second of their winter dances, Friday evening, November 29, having been set as the date for their Thanksgiving dance.

MISS CARLOTTA JENNINGS entertained a number of friends yesterday afternoon at a musical tea at the home of her sister, Mrs. A. H. Peabody on Third avenue. The home was lovely with autumn flowers, yellow colored chrysanthemums and yellow tulle decorating the tea table and quantities of the flowers adorning the other rooms. The hostess was assisted by her sisters, Mrs. Peabody, Mrs. Barron, Mrs. C. F. Jennings and by her mother, Mrs. H. S. Jennings. Lafayette Hanchett and Mrs. W. Hutchinson poured tea and coffee. Misses Pearl and Daisy Savage, Margaret Clark and Ethel Nettleton assisted. Several delightful numbers were enjoyed.

MRS. AND MRS. W. F. EARLE entertained a party of friends at a family dinner last Tuesday at Bransford in celebration of the twentieth anniversary of their marriage. The long table was bright with red and the guests included, besides host and hostess, three of those present at the wedding thirty years ago. Those invited were Dr. and Mrs. F. Earle, Mr. and Mrs. Philip C. Earle, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Earle, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Earle, Mr. and Mrs. L. Earle, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Knox, and Mrs. McChrystal and Edgar Earle.

MISS JULIE HERNE, whose future appears today, is a beautiful and talented young girl formerly of Salt Lake, who is winning a place for herself in the dramatic world. She has been the guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. T. White during her stay and many of the old friends of her father and friends who remember her both as child and later in her professional visits have been happy to renew the acquaintance. Mrs. White gave an informal tea for her on Friday afternoon.

Weddings and Engagements

The marriage of Miss Minette B. and Daniel Alexander will take place on Wednesday, November 27, in the evening. It will be a quiet home affair, witnessed only by the family and the most intimate friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Schrack announce the engagement of their daughter W. to Lee Brayton Wright of P. City, the marriage to take place on

Best Treatment for All Complexion

(From Woman's Tribune)

I'll tell you my panacea for all complexion troubles. If the skin be colorless, sallow, muddy, over-red, if it be rough, scaly, or pimply, there's nothing will so surely overcome the condition as a good mercurized wax. The wax is easily taken off a bad complexion—about the dead and near-dead particles of the face skin, so gently, gradually, and with no inconvenience at all. A complexion is then in evidence, clear, spotless, delicately soft and beautiful. You look many years younger. The wax is taken off at any time, and the complexion will rejuvenate even the most aged skin. It is smeared on the face before retiring and removed with soap and warm water. The mercurized wax habit is a healthier and more economical one than the cosmetic habit. If the skin be wrinkled or flabby, it is daily in a solution made by dissolving an ounce of powdered ascorbic acid in a pint of water. This acts immediately, clearing even the deepest wrinkles. DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S

Oriental Cream

OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER
An Indispensable and Necessary
Article for Particular Women who Desire to Retain a Youthful Appearance.

Every woman owes it to herself and loved ones to retain the charm of youth nature has bestowed upon her. For over half a century this article has been used by actresses, singers and women of fashion. It renders the skin like the softness of velvet leaving it clear and pearly white and is highly desirable when preparing for daily or evening attire. As it is a liquid and non-greasy preparation, it remains unnoticed. When attending dances, balls or other entertainments, it prevents a greasy appearance of the complexion caused by the skin becoming heated.

Gouraud's Oriental Cream cures skin diseases and relieves sunburn. Removes Tan, Pimples, Blackheads, Moth Patches, Rash, Freckles and Vulgar Redness.
